

Simply Powerful.

The screenshot shows a software window titled "Van Fleet Family Chiropractic Clinic" with a "DaySheet" view. The interface is annotated with several red arrows pointing to specific features:

- USER DEFINABLE TOOLBAR: Points to the top toolbar of the application window.
- APPOINTMENTS COLOR CODED BY TYPE OF VISIT: Points to the appointment slots in the grid, which are color-coded (e.g., blue, yellow, red).
- ON-LINE VIDEO HELP: Points to a help icon in the top right corner.
- NAVIGATOR TABS: Points to a vertical sidebar on the right containing tabs like "Calendar", "Patients", "Blackhole", "Billing", "Money M", and "Pay Claims".
- BLACKHOLE LIST: Points to a specific tab in the sidebar.
- SINGLE CLICK ACCESS TO VITAL INFORMATION: Points to a patient's record in the main grid, which has a pop-up menu with options like "Phone Numbers", "Address", "Next Appointment", and "Diagnosis".
- INPHASE SYSTEM TRAY: Points to the InPhase logo in the bottom right corner of the window.
- USER DEFINABLE RUNNING STATISTICS: Points to a summary box at the bottom right showing statistics for "Mon September 10, 2001", including counts for Scheduled, Checked Out, Walk Ins, In Office, Cancelled, Absent/Late, Reached, and Pending.
- 'TIMELESS' APPOINTMENTS: Points to a section at the bottom left showing appointment status for specific time slots.
- APPOINTMENT STATUS: Points to the status indicators (checkmarks, etc.) next to appointment entries.
- FAMILY MANAGEMENT: Points to a family group entry in the grid.

When most doctors hear "practice management software" they think billing. If that's the case, what would you call software that files claims electronically... manages family plans and payment agreements (including charging a credit card on a given billing cycle)... never allows a patient to fall out of care without your knowledge... anticipates the arrival of even the worst "I'll see you sometime Monday" type of patients... has built in safeguards for getting you comfortably through staff turnover or somebody "filling-in" at the front desk... can quickly explain balances to the penny...and much, much more? When it all comes packaged in an easy to learn, easy to use, lightning fast interface, we believe you will call it... simply powerful.

Not just solutions for your problems...
We provide possibilities for your practice.
