Ground Zero Doctors in NY Honored

Dr. Phil Nadler and Dr. Richard Imundo, both practitioners in the Bronx in New York were honored by the New York Chiropractic Council for their untiring and exemplary efforts at Ground Zero with Distinguished Lifetime Memberships. For the past six months the two doctors volunteered two days a week to adjust rescue workers at the World Trade Center. Drs. Nadler and Imundo joined with approximately 1,500 other DCs who came from all over the country to serve thousands of relief workers at Ground Zero.

Dr. Nadler has been in practice for 47 years and Dr. Imundo for 50. Dr. Ellen Coyne, chairman of the New York Chiropractic Council said that their dedication at Ground Zero has been an inspiration for relief workers and other doctors of chiropractic. "The people who received their care just loved them," she said.

Fitness Competitor also Serves as Chiropractor

Dr. Camille Eberle is a Fitness champion but she also doubles as an official chiropractor in fitness competitions. In March, Eberle captured the third place overall, and first in age group finish in the Western States Championships held in Los Angeles, California.

The Womens' Tri-Fitness event is an innovative style of competition that is redefining fitness. It utilizes a physique round, strength and agility skills and an obstacle course to provide the ultimate fitness challenge.

After a successful performance, Dr. Camille was named the official chiropractor of the Women's Tri-Fitness Federation and offered a position on their Medical Advisory Board. A Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist, Dr. Camille says she combines chiropractic with personal training to offer an unique approach to health, fitness and total body wellness.

Dr. Camille Eberle

A graduate of Parker College of Chiropractic Dr. Eberle currently practices in Dallas, Texas. She will be on duty as the chiropractor and competitor at the WTF World Championship to be held in July in Las Vegas, Nevada.

Gelardi Retires from Sherman College

Dr. Thom A. Gelardi, chairman of Sherman College of Straight Chiro-practic's Board of Trustees, announced that he will not be seeking another term as a Board member. As one of his final actions, Dr. Gelardi led the investiture ceremony of new Sherman College President Jerry L. Hardee, Ed.D on May 24, 2002.

Dr. Gelardi founded Sherman College in 1973, fulfilling a long-standing dream of advancing the chiropractic profession centered on the vertebral subluxation.

He led the college for nearly three decades. He served as Sherman's first president till 1996 and was appointed to the Board of Trustees in 1997. Among the many accomplishments during his tenure as president was the full accreditation of the college by Council on Chiropractic Education, acceptance in almost all states of Sherman graduates, and a trend of rising enrollment.
