

Can your patients and your community

Ask the Experts?

With a Now You Know website, not only do you get over 800 pages of educational content, as well as unlimited personal pages, changes and updates, you also get some of chiropractic's best known experts on video answering common patient questions on your website!

And if you want, we can even place a short video greeting from you on your site as well!

- but that's not all -

NYK Email Newsletter Service

The Now You Know email newsletter service is really two great services in one. Each month your patients will receive a well researched and referenced newsletter customized to look like it comes from your office!

This service is also a bulk mailing program that allows you to create and send emails to your patients.

Echiropractic online cards

eChiropractic is the most advanced chiropractic educational online service available anywhere!

Cards and pamphlets that you'd usually send through postal mail, can now be sent to your patients via e-mail.
